Delays College Acceptance

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas State Baptist Convention will not make Southern Baptist College at Walnut Ridge an institution of the convention for at least another year.

A special study committee of the convention made the decision Tuesday. The college offered to deed the convention its properties two years ago and the study committee was appointed at that time.

Rev. Marion Craig, pastor of the First Baptist Church of McGee and head of the committee, said he was certain the convention would eventually accept the college's offer.

Rocketteller Would Securely Guard Brown

EL DORADO, Ark. (AP) — Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller said Tuesday he did not know of any legal way he could keep H. Rap Brown out of Arkansas but that if Brown came to Arkansas he would be so well guarded that if he "goes to the restroom, there will be three state troopers with him."

Brown is the controversial leader of the Student Non-Violent Coordinating Committee. Rockefeller said Brown would be the "most protected rabble rouser that ever came to the state," Rockefeller made the statement during another of his summer regional tours of the state.

Rocketteller said again that he did not think the ingredients for a racial riot were present in Arkansas but that he had drawn up a plan of action with the State Police and National Guard in case a racial disturbance occurred in the state.

On another matter, Rocketteller said he favored both the western and central corridors for a turnpike but that he would rely on the opinion of experts to decide where a turnpike should be built.

Gun Issue Not Doomed, Kennedy Says

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, defeated in a Senate skirmish over firearms legislation, said today the set back does not indicate that President Johnson's gun control proposal is doomed.

But a Republican foe of the administration measure said the Senate decision to continue the Pentagon's civilian marksmanship program pointed in that direction.

"I think it is an indication of the attitude of the Senate on matters of this kind," Sen. Roman L. Hruska, R-Neb., said in an interview.

Kennedy tried Tuesday to eliminate from the defense appropriations bill funds for operation of the 65-year-old civilian marksmanship program, administered by the National Rifle Association.

The Senate voted 67 to 23 against his amendment, which also would have halted free distribution of ammunition to NRA marksmen's clubs and their nearly 385,000 members.

Kennedy, a Massachusetts Democrat, said the program is costing the government $5 to $10 million a year, and based his argument on economy.

The Pentagon has estimated its cost at about $4 million, and has said the Johnson gun control measure would not interfere with operation of the program.

Kennedy issued a statement contending the government is a primary booster, subsidizer and promoter of the National Rifle Association, a leading force opposing the administration's gun control bill still pending in the Senate Judiciary Committee.

Contraceptive Pill Developer Dead at 64

By HOWARD F. ANGLIONE. BOSTON (AP) — Dr. Gregory Pincus, the research biologist who developed the first practical oral contraceptive pill, died Tuesday night. He was 64.

With Dr. Hudson Hoagland, he was co-founder in 1944 of the Worcester Foundation for Experimental Biology, now located in Shrewsbury, Mass., where laboratory research on the pill began in 1950.

His death came 10 years after the pill he developed was approved by the Food and Drug Administration for use in treating threatened abortion and menstrual disorders, and seven years after its approval as a prescription contraceptive.

Arabia Says LBJ Has Made Assurances

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
 President Johnson has written to King Faisal of Saudi Arabia to assure him Israeli troops will be withdrawn from areas they seized in the June war if the Arabs make "certain arrangements," the Beirut newspaper Al Hayat reported today.

In a dispatch from Washington, Al Hayat said "arrangements mentioned by Johnson" were left vague but the President hinted in the letter he meant his five-point program announced June 19.

Johnson called then for Arab recognition of Israel's statehood, justice for Arab refugees, the right of all shipping to use international waterways, limits on the wasteful and destructive arms race, and political independence and integrity for all.

Other press reports in Beirut said a trio of Arab leaders is expected to confer this weekend in the Lebanese capital. The reports said King Hussein of Jordan, due in Beirut tonight for a two-day state visit, would be joined Friday by President Abdel Rahman Aref of Iraq and both would confer with Lebanese President Charles Helou.

Mainly they will discuss preparations for the 13-nation Arab summit conference scheduled for Khartoum Aug. 29, the reports said.

Aref is now visiting Kuwait and Saudi Arabia, reportedly trying to meditate the Yemen civil war in which Egypt and Saudi Arabia are backing opposing sides. The Yemen war is considered one of the main stumbling blocks to the success of the Khartoum summit, called to seek unified policy toward the Israeli occupation of parts of Egypt, Jordan and Syria.

Sudanese Premier Mohammed Mahgoub arrived in Beirut Tuesday night. He made a side trip to Damascus today to confer with Syrian President Nour-eddin Atassi and planned to leave for Cairo tonight to see Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser. Meanwhile, Israel informed Jordan that the Aug. 31 deadline for repatriation of Arab refugees to the west bank of the Jordan River will not be extended.

That means only a fraction of the 170,000 Arabs who have fled repatriation applications will be able to go home.

Only 1,785 refugees crossed the Allenby Bridge and another span at Um Ur-Shuruf upstream Tuesday, bringing the total number repatriated to 6,876. The crossings began Friday.

Many Questioned in Shootout

ACAPULCO, Mexico (AP) — Police were questioning some 200 persons today in an attempt to find out what touched off the weekend gun battle at a banquet of copra growers in which 22 persons were killed and 40 wounded.

LBJ Taking Steel Hike in Stride

By STERLING F. GREEN. WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson's price watchers are taking in stride the spreading $44-ton steel plate boost but are alert for any signs the industry is nibbling its way to a general steel price increase.

"The administration won't be keeping it cool if sheet and strip steels go up to," commented one government official.

There have been hints in Pittsburgh that sheet and strip prices might rise by October. A steel plate price increase has little if any direct effect on consumer prices, government experts noted, because plate is used mostly for ships, railroad cars and construction.

But sheet and strip are used in autos, household appliances and a wide range of consumer durables. Those products have risen in price, as a group less than 1/2 per cent since 1964.

A warning of possible price advances in the home appliance field—washers, dryers, refrigerators, TV sets, vacuum cleaners, ranges and other items—came Tuesday at a private meeting of manufacturers with Secretary of Commerce Alexander B. Trowbridge. The secretary briefed reporters later.

The manufacturers said they felt they had held the line fairly well so far, Trowbridge said, "but might soon have to yield on prices" because of rising costs of materials.

The President's Council of Economic Advisers continued to withhold comment on the steel plate price boost posted Friday by Bethlehem Steel Corp., and followed this week by United States Steel Corp. and others.

U.S. Steel is the biggest in the industry. Bethlehem is No. 2.

One well-placed official said the council's silence on steel plate does not mean it is lying down on its job as price watchdog. It apparently does mean, this source suggested, that the council finds a steel plate increase not particularly inflationary—and perhaps that the council does not dispute the industry's view that the profit margin in plate production needed adjustment.

Dirksen Offers to Draft GOP War Policy

By JACK BELL. AP Political Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republicans differing over Vietnam may find a supporter of President Johnson's war policies at the helm of their 1968 national convention platform-writing committee.

A casual observation Tuesday by Senate GOP Leader Everett M. Dirksen that he might be interested in directing the drafting of the party's declaration of its stand on national issues was accepted generally as indicating he will be the man in charge.

The Illinois Republican has backed Johnson's basic conduct of the Vietnam war, although criticizing some aspects. He would not be likely to let the GOP platform stray into the area of committing the party's presidential nominee into any pull-out short of a satisfactory settlement.

National convention officials are formally selected by the Republican National Committee. But Dirksen's expression indicates he'll face no opposition from the committee if he wants the platform chairmanship.

Sens. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., and Charles H. Percy, R-Ill., predicted in separate interviews that Republicans will find an acceptable formula to differ from Johnson without giving Hanoi hope it can end the war virtually on its terms.

Javits, who has diluted his support of the President's course by recent suggestions for a bombing pause and by attacks on the integrity of South Vietnam's forthcoming elections, said he thinks Republicans will "play it cool" for several months.

Percy, who has been highly critical of Johnson's policies, said he looks for evolution of a middle-of-the-road GOP stand.

 crowd could be brought to order. The first time two of Brown's aides were forcibly ejected.

When Brown, wearing a blue pin-striped blazer and dungarees, entered the room he was greeted by wild applause and repeated shouts of "Black Power Black Power!" Murphy again left the room.

While the New York proceedings were under way, a federal grand jury in New Orleans indicted Brown on charges that he carried a .30-caliber carbine across state lines while under indictment—a federal crime punishable by a maximum five years in prison.

The two-count indictment charged Brown flew from New York to New Orleans with the carbine Aug. 16 and returned with it two days later. He is under indictment in Maryland on charges of arson and inciting a riot in Cambridge.

The bond in New York was aimed at insuring his appearance Friday on a scheduled hearing on his removal to New Orleans.

Cary Grant Sued for Divorce

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — The life of Cary Grant undertook two years ago as husband of an actress 33 years younger—and then as a first-time parent—is apparently over.

With the same stunning suddenness with which Grant and Dyan Cannon announced their July 22, 1965, marriage, Miss Cannon, now 30, sued the 63-year-old actor for divorce Tuesday. She asked for custody of their 18-month-old daughter Jennifer.

Miss Cannon, whom Grant courted for more than three years prior to their secret Las Vegas, Nev., wedding, charged the star of sophisticated comedy treated her in "a cruel and inhuman manner."

Although the suit said they separated last Dec. 28, it was the first public acknowledgment the marriage was in trouble. Reports of a rift in Grant's fourth marriage were heard in Hollywood last January but they had been seen dining together in recent months.

The Grants lived in a secluded fashion, seldom attending Hollywood parties. Their major diversion was attending baseball games at Dodger Stadium. When he became a father for the first time at age 62, he appeared to enjoy the new role. He told an interviewer of rising excitement to watch the 7:30 a.m. feeding and returning from his studio office in time for the 7 p.m. feeding.

He said of Jennifer: "She's the most winsome, captivating girl I've ever known and I've known quite a few girls."

In the suit, Miss Cannon said her own income is only $400 a year from residuals and asked for $5,470 a month expenses for herself and Jennifer. Miss Cannon said she is presently under the care of a psychiatrist.

This column is for young people, their problems and pleasures, their troubles and fun. As with the rest of Helen Help Us!, it welcomes laughs but won't dodge a serious question with a brush off.

Send your teenage questions to YOUTH ASKED FOR IT, care of Helen Help Us! this newspaper.

SLOW ROAD TO NOWHERE

Dear Helen: I have been dating a man for almost four years. He is legally separated from his wife and has four children.

He visits the children every Saturday, and his wife is always there. He takes them on picnics and always invites the wife. I have caught them together at 2:00 and 4:00 a.m. He takes her out to lunch and cocktails. A year ago he admitted asking for a reconciliation, but now he says he doesn't want one. However, he gave her $100 for her birthday, and I got roses for mine.

I wouldn't stand in the way of his children, but must he be so chummy with his separated wife? They even to school plays and church together. He says there's no reason to be bitter as they still get along. If so, why the separation?

He's been married 13 years and cheated on her the whole time. If I complain, he says I'm a nag. Am I naive or a—SHREW? Dear S: You're lucky! You've only wasted four years. It might have been a lifetime had this cheatin' man married you—for it appears he hangs on to the old while sampling the new.

If you're looking for marriage, pull off this slow road to nowhere and find a man who can be satisfied with ONE woman.—H.

Dear Helen: This pest keeps coming around my house under the pretense of being friends with my husband. The only trouble is, most of his visits are when my husband isn't home. He always acts surprised, but he's not fooling me. He can see the car is gone.

He is constantly telling me how nice I am, and trying to be cozy. He's done a lot of favors for my husband, and I hate to break up a friendship, but I get the feeling he's nice to my man, so he can make time with me.

If I tell his wife or my husband it will cause a big fuss, and he might twist it to make ME look bad. Besides he hasn't actually got fresh—he just shows up every time I'm alone, and looks hopeful. How can I handle this with tact.—BEBEWILDERED

Dear Bewildered: Handle the situation with a locked door and a firm voice.

Next time this man knocks about the window. "My husband isn't home. I'll tell him to call you." He'll get the message.—H.

Dear Helen: My wife and I have been married a year and we are expecting a baby in two months. Our apartment is upstairs and my wife is having a hard time walking up those 15 steps. My folks have invited us to move in with them. It would save money, as we'd only have to pay for our food, plus a little extra for living expenses. My wife is against it. She says we would have no privacy. She likes our five-room apartment but I'm afraid of those steps. What do you say?—SOON A FAMILY MAN

Dear Soon: I vote for the 15-stair-steps to privacy. One-story climbing won't hurt a healthy pregnancy nearly as much as three-generation living. The money you'd save on rent might easily be spent on a marriage counselor.—H.

YOUR HELPING HAND DEPARTMENT

Dear Helen: Would you please ask your fine readers to drop a note of cheer to my brother? He's been in a body cast for three months and has at least two more months to go, then therapy. For a single man, that's a long time in bed and very depressing. He is Lawrence Susino c/o Englewood Hospital, Room 306 Englewood, New Jersey, 07631. Thank you in advance.—SAL

Complains to PSC Over AP&L Tactics

OSCEOLA, Ark. (AP)—J. E. Teaford, an Osceola alderman, said Tuesday night a letter critical of a letter written by Osceola Mayor Charlie Wiygul has been sent to Lewis R. Robinson, chairman of the state Public Service Commission.

Wiygul said in his letter to Robinson that Arkansas Power & Light Co. was using "irregular tactics" in an attempt to force the city to do business with AP&L when its contract with the Southwest Power Administration expires in November.

Teaford said his group's letter says that a majority of the members of the city council do not agree with the "insinuations and opinions" contained in Wiygul's letter.

Teaford said the council had passed a resolution asking that the city cancel its contract with SPA and open negotiations with AP&L. Teaford said three members of the council voted for the resolution, two voted against and one abstained.

Teaford said Wiygul was to make a decision tonight on whether or not to veto the resolution. If Wiygul vetoes the resolution and the city council repasses the resolution by a 4-2 vote then the mayor must abide by the resolution.

LET'S TALK ABOUT MOVIES

By VELDA SEAMANS

It's a merry-go-round of weird and wild antics in that comedy hit "Oh Dad, Poor Dad, Mamma's Hung You in the Closet And I'm Feeling So Sad" with Rosalind Russell and Jonathan Winters, playing tonight and Thursday night at the Saenger. If you want a real good time and plenty of laughs see this one.

Friday and Saturday, George Segal and Alec Guinness star in "The Quiller Memorandum." Quiller is not just another spy, you'll find him the most exciting man you've ever met, and one that you will remember as he shatters your nerves. . . . On the same program is "The Treasure of Makuba" with Cameron Mitchell as the Man Of Action in the South Sea adventure film.

There will be a Late Show Sat. Night at the Saenger, "Don't Make Waves" starring Tony Curtis and Claudia Cardinale. It will be showing Sunday and Monday, too. "Don't Make Waves" introduces an exciting newcomer, Sharon Tate. A comedy of life and love on the beach of Southern California with all the surf sirens and muscle men.

Friday and Saturday at the Dixie is a good family show. Laugh it up . . . laugh out loud . . . it's "The Man Called Flintstone", it's his first full length movie.

On the same program is Steve McQueen and Susanne Pleshette in "Nevada Smith". A thrill-packed suspenseful western.

Starting Sunday at the Dixie is a program for adults. "Please Don't Touch Me" and "Girl From Tobacco Row". The girl who says she has 200 boy friends.

Coeds to Clank Around Campus

NEW YORK—(NEA)—The chime of the clock on the Ivy campus tower may not be heard come B-T-S day this fall because of the clanking of hardware that trims coed fashions.

Flashy metal will make the sound of '67 with nailheads studding everything from jackets, pants and T-shirts to skirts and dresses, matching helmets and handbags. Hardware such as turn locks and galoshes clips close up everything. Giant metal zippers stand out all over. There are more brass rings than you'll ever find in a carousel at a country carnival.

Everything has a bright, strike-up-the-band look—braid, epaulettes, capes, navy wool dresses with stand-up collars and braided sleeves. You would almost think the kids were glad to be back on campus after a dull vacation.

College fashions this semester often take their ideas from Ireland, Scotland, Austria and Russia. Even the ideas of the French and English designers join the group.

The Irish fishermen loans teens his scour white knit sweater. From Austria comes the deep country look of loden cloth, hunting coats, corduroy suits, real fur, suede, leather and buckskin. Scottish tartans take on a new personality in wool chinchilla coats and matching skirts or jumpers, or stick to tradition in pleated kilts (for men as well as girls) to wear with velvet or wool jackets. Russian dressing, here, means Cossack coats or dresses.

That London look pulls up short with designs by Twiggy. Mary Quant and Roger Nelson. Twiggy's short aqua or green wool dresses accent neckline interest and front zippers. Roger Nelson's black wool dresses and minicoats take long pointed collars or V necks. Mary Quant's Bermuda pink and beige fashions, with clever stitching, seaming and shaping, have waistlines sliding down.

Today's switch-on girl will borrow from her male ancestors of the past when she wears vests that contrast with pants suits or match straight-leg pants. But a new twist has been added to fashion of another era. In the skirt and long sweater look with flyaway scarf and stocking cap the varsity is anything but a drag.

The long, sleeveless sweater gets into the show over a man-tailored tattersall shirt and pantskirt and widely striped shirts go with skirts with metal closings.

Every coed will look like a rich little girl when evening comes. She will shine in the light of satin, silver, gold, noisy metallics and white fox—fake or real.

Black and bright-striped satin is worked into tanky little dresses, metallic dresses are trimmed with "diamonds" and silver takes a pants stand in a quilted silver jacket worn with silver pants.

Black velvet dresses have white organdy trimming and violet cut velvet in a moire pattern sparkles with "diamond" buttons and belt buckle.

Color for campus wear is as riotous as the students themselves seem to be these days. Purple, red, orange, gold and green spin in mind-bending blends, often sliced or circled. You'll find a gold dress with one red and one green sleeve. Or pant: with one yellow and one pink leg.

Checkerboards play the game in minidresses with matching pants. And the color craze carries right down to the toes with matching tights.

It looks like a bright, noisy season on campus with fashions clanking as well as shining.

Cards Romp Over the Giants

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer
St. Louis has been cashing in on last year's Orlando Cepeda-Ray Sadecki swap for a long while, but Cepeda still won't let the San Francisco Giants off the hook.

The slugging first baseman tagged Sadecki for a run scoring single and a three-run homer Tuesday night, backing Nelson Briles' four-hit pitching and powering the National League-leading Cardinals to a 9-0 romp over the Giants.

Cepeda, dealt from San Francisco to the Cards in May, 1966, for southpaw Sadecki, went 3-for-5 against the Giants and boosted his batting mark to .344 — only two points short of league leader Roberto Clemente of Pittsburgh.

Sadecki, meanwhile, lasted 4 1/3 innings, committed an error, wild-pitched two runs home and wound up with his fifth loss in 10 decisions.

In other NL action Philadelphia swept a doubleheader from the New York Mets 2-0 and 11-4; Cincinnati trounced Los Angeles 4-1; Chicago drubbed Pittsburgh 8-1 and Houston spanked Atlanta 4-1.

Boston beat Washington twice 2-1 and 5-3; Detroit swept Minnesota 7-3 and 2-1 in 11 innings; Kansas City split with Baltimore, winning 6-1 after a 2-1 setback, and the Chicago White Sox topped New York 3-2 before bowling 2-1 in American League doubleheaders. Cleveland edged California 3-2 in a single game.

The Cardinals, who had dropped two in a row, jumped on Sadecki for three runs in the first inning and finished him in the fifth on Julian Javier's single, the pitcher's fielding error and Cepeda's 22nd homer.

Javier, who also had three hits, clubbed a three-run homer off reliever Bob Bolin in the sixth and ex-relief pitcher Briles breezed to his first shutout and eighth victory in 13 decisions.

Larry Jackson, beaten by the Mets last week after reeling off 19 straight victories at their expense, started a new string in the nightcap at New York as Rich Allen paced a 14-hit assault with his 22nd and 23rd homers.

Rick Wise blanked the Mets on seven hits in the first game while Bill White's RBI single in the fourth and Tony Gonzalez' ninth inning homer won it for the Phillies.

Milt Pappas, who had shut out Los Angeles in two previous meetings, blanked them on six hits until Al Ferrara homered in the ninth and picked up his 13th victory against eight losses. Pete Rose keyed the Reds' attack against loser Don Drysdale with a double and run-scoring triple.

Joe Niekro scattered 11 Pittsburgh hits and doubled in three runs to lead the Cubs past the Pirates and left-hander Bob Veale. Billy Williams hit his 19th homer as the Cubs snapped Pittsburgh's winning streak at five games.

The Astros stretched Atlanta's losing string to five behind the six-hit pitching of Dave Giusti.

49ers Plan Fast Plan in National

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer
ST. MARY'S, Calif. (AP)—Jack Christiansen is revving up his motors for a fast start this year in search of the National Football League title that always has eluded the San Francisco 49ers.

The 49ers tied for the Western Conference title once in 1957 but lost the playoff to Detroit. For the rest of the time it has been 17 long bitter years of frustration.

A strong finish in 1965 raised hopes for 1966 but John Brodie's long holdout and the resultant confusion in camp ruined the season. San Francisco lost all of its preseason games last year and went to Oct. 8 before it finally won a game by upending Green Bay.

Determined to get his club out of the starting gate fast, Christiansen has been bearing down a little more in this picturesque camp on the campus of St. Mary's College. At least it paid off in the opener, an impressive 42-14 romp over Cleveland.

Brodie's reported $1 million five-year contract still is in effect but the grumblings and player walkouts seem to have ended. That Super Bowl game Sox topped New York 3-2 before bowling 2-1 in American League doubleheaders. Cleveland edged California 3-2 in a single game.

"All the players and I think we have a good shot to win it," said Christiansen. "We're in the division with Baltimore and Los Angeles and Atlanta. The Rams will be tough but we split with them last year. Baltimore always is a real problem with us. They have beaten us nine in a row since 1962. Johnny Unitas always seems to have his best days against us. But we think we can do the job this time."

As of the present, Christiansen plans to let Steve Spurrier, the Heisman Trophy winner from Florida, learn the trade on the bench, except for punting.

Brodie is No. 1 and George Mira, the scrambler from Miami, is next. Mira, unhappy about playing second fiddle, is talking about playing out his option. A trade still is possible with so many clubs looking for quarterbacks.

The 49ers have a strong running game built around John David Crow, who is coming off knee surgery, and Ken Willard, the fullback who had to be talked into coming back after demanding a trade. Gary Lewis and Dave Kopay are solid back-up men.

Kay McFarland at flanker is the only probable change in the offensive unit. McFarland takes the place of Bernie Casey, traded away during the winter. Dave Parks, perhaps the best split end in the league, is back. Bob Windsor, a future draft pick from Kentucky, has the speed to give Monty Stickles a fight for the tight end post.

Play Leaves American Really Close

By ED SCHUYLER JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer
George Scott was in a daze for a little while and Dick McAuliffe was temporarily in the dark, but when they recovered it was the American League pennant race that was in a real state of confusion.

Scott was kicked on the back of the head in Boston's 2-1 victory over Washington in the first game of a doubleheader Tuesday night.

But he played all of the second game and drove in two runs with a bases-loaded single, sparking the Red Sox to a 5-3 victory.

McAuliffe, who drove in two runs with a homer in Detroit's 7-3 first-game victory over Minnesota, tripled in the 11th inning of the nightcap. Then, with one out and Willie Horton up, relief pitcher Al Worthington uncorked a wild pitch.

However, because Horton is a right-handed hitter, McAuliffe had trouble seeing and wasn't sure the pitch was wild until he saw the ball rolling toward the wall. He then scampered home of a 2-1 Detroit victory.

While Scott was relieving his headache with a hit and McAuliffe was winning his game of Find The Ball, the Chicago White Sox were sticking to the American League's Perils of Pauline script by splitting with the New York Yankees. The Sox won 3-2 and then lost 2-1.

After the smoke had cleared, Chicago was in first one percentage point ahead of Boston and a game ahead of Minnesota and Detroit. Minnesota was a percentage point in front of fourth-place Detroit.

Luis Tiant set a single game high of 16 strikeouts for the majors this season as Cleveland edged California 3-2 and Baltimore beat Kansas City 2-1 before losing to the Athletics 6-1 in other American League games.

In the National League, St. Louis drubbed San Francisco 9-0, Cincinnati topped Los Angeles 4-1, Chicago trounced Pittsburgh 8-1, Houston took Atlanta 4-1 and Philadelphia swept New York 2-0 and 11-4.

In the first game, Boston broke a scoreless tie when pinch hitter Dalton Jones tripled in two runs in the seventh.

Scott was put in his temporary daze an inning later when he bobbed Dick Nen's grounder and dove head first to tag the bag. He made the putout but was kicked and had to leave the game, only to return as a hero in the nightcap.

Earl Wilson became the majors' first 17-game winner in the Tigers' first-game victory. After McAuliffe hit his two-run homer, his 20th, off Dean Chance in the first inning, Wilson doubled home another run in the third.

Wilson, who has lost nine, gave up solo homers to Cesar Tovar, Tony Oliva and Ted Uhlaender.

Wayne Causey carried the White Sox to their opening victory by rapping out three hits and driving in all three runs. But the Sox ran into Fritz Peterson in the second game. The young left-hander yielded just two hits, both by Tommie Agee, in boosting his record to 4-13.

Rock, guards John Thomas and Howard Mudd and center Bruce Bosley make up a veteran offensive line.

It has been hard to run on the 49ers but their deep defense has been vulnerable to the bomb. Jim Johnson, a fine corner man, will be back with Kermit Alexander, George Donnelly and Alvin Randolph, a 1966 rookie who wound up as a starter.

Frank Nuneley of Michigan and Cass Banaszek, two highly regarded draftees, may force their way into regular linebacking jobs on the unit that consists of Dave Wilcox, Ed Beard and 34-year-old Matt Hazeltine.

Stan Hindman, rated a top lineman in college ball when drafted last year from Mississippi, has come along fast to take over Jim Norton's old job at left end on the defensive line. Clark Miller is the other end and the veterans Charlie Krueger and Roland Lakes are the tackles.

While Tommy Davis was recuperating from a knee operation, Spurrier has been doing the punting. He also can kick field goals if Davis is slow coming around.

Pro Golfers Going After Rich Prize

By WILL GRIMSLEY
Associated Press Sports Writer
RYE, N.Y. (AP) — "I guess I found my choking price."

This now classic remark came from the lips of Arnold Palmer a few years ago when he missed a three-foot putt on the final green which would have clinched the $30,000 tournament top prize.

Palmer, now a millionaire, and others of pro golf's affluent gypsies choke less easily at the fortunes put up almost every weekend on the $4.5 million tour but if their throats are going to get dry and their pulses quicken, this is the weekend for it.

The world's richest tournament—the $250,000 Westchester Classic—gets off the tee Thursday at the luxurious Westchester Country Club and almost every golfer worth his salt is here for a shot at the loot.

First prize is $50,000, the biggest purse since the halcyon days of George May at Chicago's Tam O'Shanter in the 1940s. Second prize is $30,000, third $18,750 and on it goes with $6,500 waiting for the tenth best finisher.

"The money has become so big that most of us don't even think about it, not until we get down to last couple of holes anyhow," said Masters champion Gary Brewer.

"If we started thinking about all the money at stake, we wouldn't be able to hit the ball off the tee."

"I don't think anybody considers the size of the purse any more," added Gary Player, the South African who has won all the major pro titles. "Winning the tournament is the thing, it's fantastic. A lot of us now pass up $100,000 tournaments as if they didn't exist."

Palmer, the season's leading money winner with more than $138,000 and U.S. Open champion Jack Nicklaus, in the midst of his fifth $100,000 season, are advance favorites in the four-day, 72-hole inaugural event which ends Sunday.

Tennis Queen Finding More Difficulties

By DAVE O'HARA
Associated Press Sports Writer
BROOKLINE, Mass. (AP) — The Queen Mother of Tennis—Mrs. Hazel Wightman—finds it a little more difficult to get around these days, but she still keeps her hand in the game she loves and helped develop.

Mrs. Wightman, who won the first of 44 national championships in 1909, is a spry young woman who will be 81 in December. She no longer plays tennis as such, but will rally with anyone.

The 87th National Doubles Championships, marking a golden anniversary of play at the Longwood Cricket Club, took a brief time out today to honor the grand old gal.

More than 700 officials, players, fans and friends were expected to join in a luncheon in paying tribute to "Mrs. Wighty" who had predicted the "party will be a dud." Only limited facilities restricted the turnout on a tent-covered court.

"They don't have to throw a day for me," Mrs. Wightman said. "Every day that I have in tennis is a great day. It overwhelms me that so many people will come to a luncheon for me. I am very grateful."

The National Doubles Tournament advanced through the third of its nine days Tuesday, with only one major upset. Davis Cup teammates Cliff Richey and Charlie Pasarell were sidelined by unheralded Roy Barth and Steven Tidball, University of Southern California juniors, 6-4, 7-5, 6-4.

Travelers Finally Win Game
LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Arkansas' Brian Sinnott faced only 30 batters, three over the minimum, as the Travelers blanked El Paso Tuesday night 3-0. Sinnott allowed only three hits.

Biff Bracy hit a two-run homer in the fifth inning for the Travs. It was his 11th homer of the season.

Some nifty base-running in the fourth inning by Joe Patterson accounted for Arkansas' other run. Patterson walked, stole second and third and scored on Joe Hague's groundout.

The Sun Kings never mustered a serious threat against Sinnott, a right-hander.

Dallas-Fort Worth's John Duffie scattered three hits as the Spurs defeated Albuquerque 1-0 at Arlington, Tex. It was Duffie's 13th victory against nine losses.

Austin pounded out 16 hits and crushed Amarillo's Texas League leading Sonics 10-2 at Amarillo. Derrell Griffith drove in five runs and Angel Hermoso had five hits for the Braves.

G&F Sets Up 2-Day Season on All Deer
LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The state Game and Fish Commission established a two-day any-sex deer season Tuesday in all but three of the 22 game management areas in Arkansas.

The 22 acres were drawn up Tuesday by the commission. Bucks may be shot Nov. 13-18 and Dec. 11-16 while both bucks and does will be legal Nov. 24-25.

District 12, 15 and 16 will not be open to doe hunters. Districts 15 and 16 are in the southwestern part of the state and are bounded on the west by the Oklahoma border, on the south by U.S. 67, on the east by Arkansas 27 and on the north by U.S. 270 and Arkansas 28. District 12 includes Pulaski County.

The commission also set up a nine-month season for spear-fishermen, from June 15 to March 15. Scuba divers will be allowed to shoot two trout, two bass, two Walleye and two catfish but can shoot a regular limit of all other fish. Fish bi-

GENERAL COMMENT—The Packers aren't as omnipotent as some people might suggest. Just don't lose a Hornung-Taylor combo and shrug it off. But Vince Lombardi has hit a good formula for turning over talent while winning. And they do have proper motivation—could be first in modern history to win three NFL titles in row.

OFFENSE
PASSING—Chuck out Unitas, Jurgensen, rest. Most effective quarterback in football today is Bart Starr, a field extension of Lombardi in thinking, execution. Amazing thing is they don't hesitate to sub Zeke Bratkowski for him. Rating—A
RECEIVING—Knee injury which decked Bob Long, maybe for season, took away Lombardi's flexibility in using three wide receivers for certain situations. Not really hurting, though, with Boyd Dowler on flank, Carroll Dale split and Marv Fleming tight, with old Max McGee for clutch spots. Fleming's improved; Dale's unappreciated. Rating—B+
RUNNING—How many teams lose best fullback in game, best clutch fullback and not mean? Physically, don't expect to miss Hornung, Taylor. Because Donnie Anderson, Jim Grabowski expected to justify huge cash outlay in '66. And Elijah Pitts had already beaten out Hornung as halfback regular. Ben Wilson, ex-Ram helps, too. Rating—B
LINE—Nagging worry that the old guys—Forrest Gregg, Bob Skoronski, Jerry Kramer, Fuzzy Thurston—can retain zip. Fuzzy's already been sidetracked for husky, young Gale Gillingham. Lombardi must have been thinking that way, too, for he drafted Bob Hyland No. 1. Kid can play center, guard, tackle. Rating—B+
KICKING—Irony that Don Chandler, who started life as punter, is now placekicker because Anderson has shown he can take over the booting.

DEFENSE
LINE—Like offensive counterparts, Willie Davis, Henry Jordan getting on in age, too. But less worry because young guys like Jim Weatherwax, Bob Brown are ready to fill in. Incumbent regulars Ron Kostelnik, Lionel Aldridge are steady, able—and young. The old guys, though, mean most to the pass rush. Rating—B
LINEBACKERS—Most terrifying threesome in game: Dave Robinson on left, LeRoy Calfay on right, Ray Nitschke in middle. They're biggest trio in game, as well as fast, and they like to hit. Really the key to the Packer defense. Tommy Crutcher, rookie Jim Flanagan are the spares. Rating—A SECONDARY—Terrific mobility. Herb Adderley, Bob Jeter on corners have ideal swiftness and size. Herb's perennial all-pro. So's Willie Wood at right safety, surest tackler in game. Tom Brown, the other safety, is just now getting the feel of football again (he started pro career in baseball). Rating—A-
SUMMARY—A guy could defy the odds and pick against the Packers, but he'd be doing it just to be different. With Bart Starr heading an offense that's leaning more to the pass and the usual airtight defense, the Packers don't show any real chinks of weakness. PREDICTION—First in Central division

Namath Likes to Point to the Record

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer
PEEKSKILL, N.Y. (AP) — "Who do you think," asked Joe Namath, "is the best quarterback in pro football?"

Then, even without waiting for the words Johnny Unitas — anticipating them, actually — the New York quarterback turned and reached into the middle drawer of the desk in his dormitory room at the Jets' training camp.

He pulled out a copy of the current Playboy, but one glance at the cover told him that wasn't what he was looking for. His hand went further into the drawer, and this time he came up with a football magazine. He flipped through the pages and found what he was looking for so quickly that it was obvious he had done this before.

There, under a picture of Unitas, was a statement from the Baltimore quarterback. "If you know what you're doing, you won't be intercepted upon," Unitas was quoted as saying.

Then, just as easily, Namath flipped to another page. This one showed Unitas' passing statistics for 1966. The third-year Jet pointed a long index finger to a figure that said 6.9.

"Look at that," Namath said. "Almost seven per cent of his passes were intercepted last year, and he's the best, or at least one of the two best, in pro football. So how do you explain it?"

Namath, who very possibly could be the next best quarterback in pro football, used the statistic to prove that a guy with a 5.7 interception percentage can't be all bad.

That was Namath's record last year, and it's the 27 interceptions on which the record is based that his detractors, without looking at the percentage, point to most frequently.

"Sure, I threw a lot of interceptions, but I threw more than 400 times, too," the 24-year-old quarterback said. Actually, Namath's 27 interceptions came in 471 passes. Unitas, on the other hand, was intercepted 24 times in 348 passes.

Declares Local Crime Increasing

JOE BARRENTINE and JACK LOWE

PROSECUTOR BILL DENMAN

Prosecuting Attorney Bill Denman of Prescott yesterday told Hope Kiwanis club that crime in Southwest Arkansas had increased from 15 to 20 per cent during the past year.

He pointed to the four counties in which he serves, Hempstead, Miller, Nevada and Clark. The greatest increase comes from the ages of 15 to 25.

The greatest increase by categories include burglary and grand larceny, assault with intent to kill, forgery and uttering and automobile theft.

He mentioned that most of the forgery came from personalized checks which had been stolen. Mr. Denman then turned his address to recent U.S. court decisions, some of which he criticized, but defended the "Moranda Decision" which he said dealt mainly with individual liberties and rights of the people.

The program was arranged by Dean Murphy. Guests included Del Copeland and Jack Taylor of Bruner-Ivory Handle Co., Mike Murphy and Steven Ray Turner, two recent delegates to Boys State who spoke briefly.

Joe Barrentine, high school principal, was inducted as a new member by Jack Lowe.

Jim Johnson Raps LBJ, Fulbright

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Jim Johnson, the 1966 Democratic candidate for governor, said Tuesday that he is not "enthusiastic" about the Vietnam program of President Johnson and that the position Sen. J. William Fulbright, D-Ark., takes concerning Vietnam is not in the "American tradition."

Johnson leveled the charges while being questioned about his political future. He said he had given little thought to whether he would seek any office next year and said he was more concerned with the future of the United States.

It has been reported that Johnson may seek either a chief justice's seat on the state Supreme Court, the governorship or a U.S. Senate seat. He is a former state Supreme Court justice.

Johnson said Fulbright was advocating surrender in Vietnam and that he did not agree with the senator.

"Every coward knows that any fight can be terminated simply by surrendering," Johnson said. "But this is not in the American tradition. We fight to win. This is the only way we can keep faith with the men who have given their lives for a cause."

He said the question in Vietnam, as far as he is concerned, is "do we intend to win."

Johnson said the President has laid down certain restrictions that make it "virtually impossible to win a decisive victory."

"There are few school boys in America who don't believe that we could win this war in a very short time if only a part of our military power were brought to bear on the enemy," Johnson said.

Johnson said he is convinced that a large part of the President's "military ineptness has been brought about by a calculated intent on the part of the commander in chief."

"The perpetuation of undeclared wars to create emergencies designed to further the political ambitions of unscrupulous individuals are not in the best American tradition," Johnson said. "The American people are demanding that we win this war forthwith and bring our fighting men home. I, for one, will settle for no less."

Carol Channing Made History in Musical Comedy With 2 Parts

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — The statue of Buddha in the Waldorf Towers apartment looked unreal. Half-hiding the placid timeless face was a large blonde wig tilted askew.

"I'm waiting for the hairdresser to come and fix it," said Carol Channing.

Rare indeed is the actress who creates one unforgettable role on the stage. Carol did it twice, scoring as Lorelei Lee in "Gentlemen Prefer Blondes" in 1949 and as Dolly Gallagher Levi in "Hello, Dolly!" in 1963.

Miss Channing made musical comedy history by bringing in $17,015,018 in 1,272 consecutive performances of "Dolly" on Broadway and on the road. It was a personal triumph for her as well as a financial triumph for producer David Merrick.

So when Hollywood decided to film the musical, whom did the title role go to? To Barbra Streisand.

The choice was a heavy blow to Carol, but she's too good a trooper to be bitter about it. "Naturally, I was disappointed," she said. "But Barbra and I were always good friends. She's a creative person, and will do the role in her own way."

"It doesn't hurt me anymore. But I certainly did want to jump out the window at first."

But Carol has no immediate leisure for such nonproductive activities.

She has six hour-long spectacles to make for the ABC network. There are also two more films to do for producer Ross Hunter, for whom she costarred with Julie Andrews in "Thoroughly Modern Millie," another box-office hit.

Then, in 1970, she has a commitment to appear in another Broadway musical planned by Merrick. "No, I don't mind having my life planned so far ahead," said Carol.

"I like it. It's every actor's ambition to keep working. The busier anyone is the happier he is, and the more fun to be around."

"The only unhappy people are those who don't work, either because they don't have to or because they are bums."

This gal who has been called "the blond with the clown-doll eyes" has the air of a clown-doll kitten on stage. Off stage, she is just as warm and friendly, but her comic, flighty mannerisms are underlaid by a vein of seriousness. She is a wise as well as funny kitten.

She worked as a model, receptionist, and sales girl before achieving success. Today she values that success, and she values the happy family relationship she has with her husband and manager, Charles Franklin Lowe, and her son, Channing.

To her happiness consists "in keeping busy at the thing you are built to do."

"I believe you should find something to dedicate your life to—and then dedicate it, go all the way with it."

These are her likes:

"Bicycling in Central Park with my husband and son—vivid colors such as chrome yellows, bright reds and strong magentas—working with Julie Andrews—rainy weather—Monday night audiences, because they're always the best—cooking omelettes with my son—wearing massive pieces of novelty jewelry—the writings of Thornton Wilder—any music with lyrics—swimming in the Pacific Ocean early in the morning—and painting portraits of people from the neck up with 10-cent pastel paints."

And these are her dislikes:

"Music without lyrics—getting stuck in elevators—alcoholic actors, because they can ruin your performance as well as their own—Saturday night audiences—and people who don't work at anything, and are therefore mean and resentful."

What does she think are her own worst faults?

"Being late to appointments, and dribbling food when I eat. Really, I should always wear an apron to the table."

Ex-Greek Official Released From Jail

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
ATHENS (AP) — Former Foreign Minister Evangelos Averoff-Tossizza was released from jail today after King Constantine pardoned him.

Averoff-Tossizza, 57, was sentenced to a five-year prison term by a military court last week for violating the military dictatorship's order that no more than five persons can meet together without special permission. The former minister was convicted of holding an unauthorized gathering in his home on July 12. The stiff sentence aroused widespread criticism in Greece and abroad.

Youth Killed in Accident

ST. CHARLES, Ark. (AP)—Larry Manis, 17, of DeWitt, was killed Tuesday night in a one-car accident about one-half mile east of here. State Police said the accident occurred on Arkansas 1.

Officers said Manis was the driver of the car which went out of control on a curve, left the highway and struck a tree. Robert Brown, 16, of DeWitt, was a passenger in the car but was not seriously injured, officers said.

Would Bomb Only If China Enters War

LOS ANGELES (AP) — "Think African," Rosanna Wright suggests to Negro women coming to her shop.

The brightly printed cotton styles will replace the mod look as the latest clothing fad, she predicts.

The shop selling "the African look" was opened Tuesday by a Negro self-help organization called Operation Bootstrap.

Mrs. Wright wears the loose dress styles patterned after African garb and has had her hair cut in the short style of African women.

Louis Smith, president of Bootstrap, said the organization started its store without government money. He said it expects to have its own factories in operation within six months.

DOCTOR'S MAILBAG
Caution Needed on Taking Drugs During Pregnancy
By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Q—I am seven months pregnant. For the last four months I have been taking meprobamate as a tranquilizer, Tylenol for headaches and Ambiar to reduce. Will any of these harm my baby? Are they habit-forming?

A—Meprobamate in the usual dosage is probably harmless. Acetaminophen (Tylenol) belongs to a group of drugs that may induce anemia in the fetus. Methamphetamine with phenobarbital (Ambiar) is habit-forming and may cause excessive bleeding in newborns. During pregnancy the taking of drugs of all kinds should be kept to a minimum.

Q—Is it harmful to take penicillin during pregnancy? What effect will drinking alcohol have on the fetus?

A—Although some antibacterial agents (sulfa drugs and the tetracyclines) should be avoided during pregnancy, penicillin is considered safe. Alcohol in moderation has not been shown to have any adverse effect on the developing infant.

Q—My daughter says a strong-minded woman can prevent pregnancy by creating a mental block against it. Is this true?

A—Many women wish it were that simple but it isn't.

Q—What is the cause and treatment of myocardopathy?

A—This is a general term that means any disease of the heart muscle. It includes (1) myocarditis which may be caused by several infectious diseases but most commonly by rheumatic fever and (2) myocardial infarction due to an obstruction of one of the coronary arteries. The most important part of the early treatment in either case is rest.

Q—My doctor says I have a systolic murmur and a slightly enlarged heart. How dangerous is this?

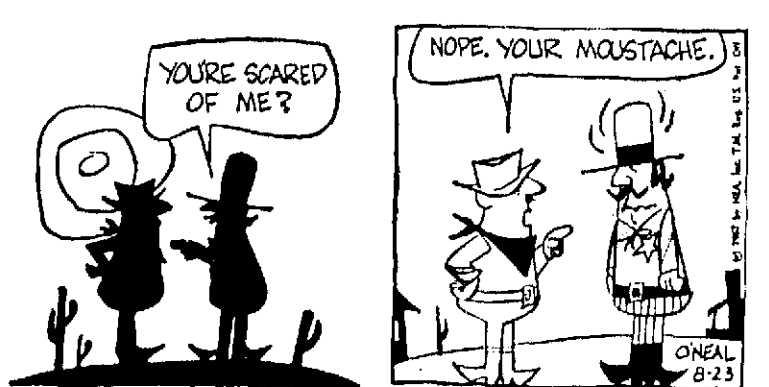

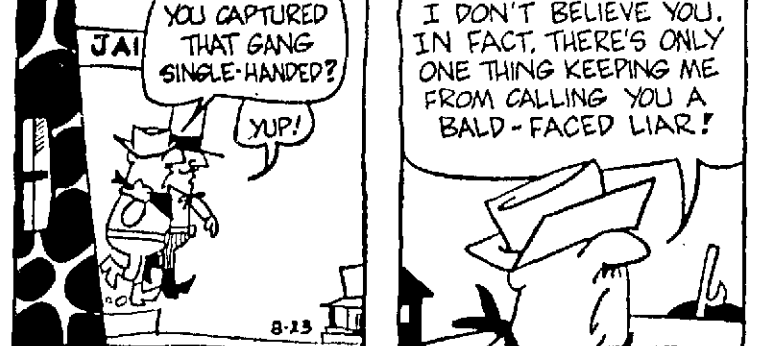

A—The most common cause of this condition is rheumatic fever and the degree of damage may be widely varied. With skillful treatment further damage can be avoided and you can lead a nearly normal life.

Q—What is pulmonary heart disease? Does it require any medication?

A—Pulmonary heart disease or cor pulmonale is a failure of the right ventricle which may be due to tuberculosis, emphysema, a chest

West's five club bid was one of those old fashioned wing and a prayer calls. He didn't have any idea who could make how much but he did not want to be shut out.

Actually West could get out for one down at five clubs but he didn't get to play the hand there because North went to five spades.

East won the first trick with his ace of clubs and shifted to the king of hearts. South dropped the three and West played the four. He did not want a heart continuation if East had started with four hearts.

This left East with a real problem. If South had made the mistake of false-carding with the nine East would have known that he could continue hearts with safety. The three would be missing and East would know that his partner's four spot play was the start of an echo with 4-3 doubleton or that South had falsecarded. Either way East would feel certain that he could collect a second heart trick.

However, South had played the three and East had a problem. East was a slow player and took plenty of time.

Eventually he led his ace of hearts and South was down one. East's reasoning was that South held at least seven spades and therefore could not have more than five red cards. One of those red cards was sure to be the king or queen of diamonds. If West held both king and queen he would probably have opened the suit instead of clubs. Irrespective of which diamond honor South held he would be able to finesse against West and discard any hearts he held on dummy's long diamonds. Therefore if South did not hold another heart he would make the hand in any event.

Congo-- A History of Turmoil

Once again the Republic of Congo is engaged in the type of internal struggle that has marked its existence since independence was granted by Belgium in 1960. New faces and old have emerged in the latest upheaval, after the nation had experienced a period of relative calm. Fighting began with the airlifting of white mercenaries into Kisanangani, formerly Stanleyville, but the massive rout of these forces claimed by the government has now been disproven. Rebel Katangese, who still pledge allegiance to the imprisoned Moise Tshombe, have joined with the mercenaries. Once again African is fighting African in the seven-year-old nation.

THE MANY FACES in the Congo's turbulent history include Patrice Lumumba, first premier, later murdered; Moise Tshombe, former premier who led secessionist Katanga and now awaits execution; Jean Schramme, Belgian presently leading the mercenaries; Joseph Mobutu, current president; and above left, Cyrille Adoula, former premier succeeded by Tshombe, who was ousted by Premier Joseph Kasavubu, above right, who in turn was ousted by Mobutu.

CIGAR-SHAPED FUSELAGE shown here belongs to the Anglo-French Concorde, which will probably be the first supersonic airliner aloft. This is the second prototype of the futuristic aircraft, being built at Bristol, England.

MOON BUGGIES are in the planning stage, for transporting astronauts when they make lunar landings, hopefully by 1970. Uncertain about the quality of the moon's surface, scientists have devised some weird-looking crafts for moon use. One offering is the electric-powered buggy built by Boeing, at right, which would use woven-wire tires for traction in deep moon dust and for smooth rides over rocky, pitted ground. Also allowing for an irregular surface is the four-wheeled contraption above, designed by the Bendix Corporation. It makes use of a flexible outer rim to flatten the wheels and contour them to the moon's surface for added traction. Each wheel is powered individually by electric motors in the hubs. Top speed for both vehicles will be about 10 m.p.h.

Federal Agency Withdraws Plans for Own Press

Apparently the proposal to set up a federal printing plant and publication at Texarkana which we attacked in this column Monday is a dead duck.

In a roundup story this morning reviewing the whole controversy the Arkansas Gazette quotes Mike Carozza, director of the Southwest Arkansas Development Council, Inc., of Texarkana, as saying:

"We're not going to publish anything. If there were any antagonism at all to the idea, as far as I am concerned it was through, I just thought that it would be a real intimate way to deal with our people as far as our program was concerned."

Carozza, continues the Arkansas Gazette, said he had not priced any printing presses before he sent the letters to the southwest Arkansas editors. "I wrote them to see if the newspapers thought it would be in any way contrary to their policies. We were not trying to be a newspaper or news agency. This would be no different than a pastor putting in a church bulletin."

Mr. Carozza seems to be trading on the public's knowledge that he is a preacher, but he certainly knows the difference between a church printing plant or bulletin paid for with private funds and a government publication or plant bought with the people's taxes.

How a church's money is spent is the business of the congregation, but how tax money is spent is the specific concern of a newspaper, as unofficial watchdog over persons handling public funds.

6,000 More Cases Added to Welfare

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Welfare Commissioner Len Blaylock said Tuesday that 6,000 new cases, representing an increase of more than seven percent, were added to the welfare rolls during the past year and the largest increase was in aid to the aged.

Blaylock said aid to the aged had increased more than 3,400 from July 1966. He said more than 65,000 elderly persons, including 8,000 in nursing homes, were being given welfare assistance.

Blaylock said more than 1,100 cases had been added to the program which aids families with dependent children. He said about 3,800 children were represented by the increase.

A more liberal allowance in determining welfare eligibility has been a major factor in the increase according to Blaylock.

State 2nd in Retarded Aid

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Miss Mary E. Switzer, administrator of the Social Rehabilitation Service at Washington, has informed the director of the Arkansas Rehabilitation Service that only the District of Columbia and West Virginia rank above Arkansas in the number of physically and mentally disabled persons rehabilitated per 100,000 population.

Miss Switzer made the statement in a letter to E. Russell Baxter.

Arkansas ranked third in the nation in the category in 1966. Miss Switzer said Arkansas rehabilitated and placed in full employment 4,453 disabled persons in the 1966-67 fiscal year.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Post Office Committee voted today to raise third-class mail rates by the amount the administration proposed, rejecting the lower increase approved earlier by a subcommittee.

By what was described as "a substantial vote," it set the bulk mail rate at a minimum of 3.8 cents a piece, effective next January, compared with the present rate of 2 1/2 cents and a subcommittee plan to boost it to 3.5 cents over the next three years.

Street Bond Election Advanced

The city manager board last night ordered all necessary legal documents to be prepared for the calling of a city-wide vote on the proposed $765,000 street improvement program.

The directors are expected to set the election date at its next meeting September 12. If this is done, the election would come about the middle of October.

Elmer Flucht of Little Rock, representative of the bonding firm of E.L. Villareal & Co., met with the directors and outlined initial legal steps necessary for the election.

The proposed street improvement program would mean an approximate ten per cent raise in property taxes from a city-wide five-mill tax, plus an annual $5 automobile license fee.

The bonded indebtedness is timed for retirement over a 14-year period or less.

The proposed street improvement program would include an artery system of eight streets designed to carry the heaviest flow of traffic from north, south, east and west.

The improvement would include new pavement, curb and gutter, storm sewers and adequate lighting system.

The matter has been widely discussed in the past several weeks and has been endorsed by several civic clubs including Kiwanis, Rotary, Chamber of Commerce, Business & Professional Women's Club and Hope Board of Realtors.

Black Power Leader Jailed in Nashville

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — George Washington Ware, Black Power advocate who accompanied Stokely Carmichael to Cuba, remained in Nashville metropolitan jail today, unable to raise the $10,000 bond set after his arrest Tuesday on sedition charges.

Ware, 27, of Atlanta was arrested on a warrant sworn out by state Rep. Charles Galbreath and Jack Kershaw, a former official of the White Citizens' Council.

Galbreath and Kershaw, both Nashville lawyers, said they decided to seek the warrant against Ware in hopes his arrest might avert any riots in the city. Kershaw said, "We acted on our own as citizens."

The attorneys said their charge against Ware was based on statements Ware made to newsmen Monday at the Liberation School that "black people must achieve power by whatever means necessary, including violence." The school has been accused of teaching social hatred. Ware said from his jail cell he could not understand where two private citizens got the authority or information for his arrest.

The subject of negotiations is the Strickman filter, claimed by its inventor, Robert L. Strickman, to be 70 per cent more effective than the filters now in use.

Strickman, who developed the filter in a laboratory in Hillsdale, N.J., says he offered it to Columbia after he failed to even get into the offices of major American tobacco firms in his effort to sell it.

Proceeds from Columbia's half interest are to be used for education and research, including cancer research. Estimates of possible proceeds range up to $100 million a year.

Testimony concerning the filter is to be given to the Senate Commerce Committee Thursday by Dr. Grayson Kirk, president of Columbia, and Drs. Donald

Chemical Cars Derail at Texarkana, 6,000 Persons Evacuated

TEXARKANA, Tex. (AP) — A fiery explosion ripped a derailed chemical car today, injuring three firemen and three Red Cross workers.

The injured suffered burns and cuts, but were not believed in serious condition.

The chemical car was one of four that had been ravaged by fires and explosions after a freight train derailed Tuesday night, forcing the evacuation of 6,000 persons as a precaution against poison chemicals and gas.

The Red Cross workers were standing some 300 feet from the explosion and it knocked them down.

Workers immediately closed off the area. Ambulances were standing by in case of more explosions.

Police said nine cars were derailed, and four were afire. One car was loaded with what the Department of Public Safety called "a highly explosive chemical." Another contained nitric acid, another liquid plastic and gas, one fertilizer, and at least two held naphtha.

At 4:45 a.m. Richard Kennedy, desk sergeant, said, "We've got the fires pretty well contained. That smoke is toxic, but so far we haven't had any injury. We've been real lucky."

The evacuation of the residents from a 1 1/2-mile area was orderly. Civil Defense workers and policemen helped move residents from the area to three school gymnasiums for the night.

The Red Cross sent a unit from Dallas to help feed those evacuated.

The cause of the derailment on the grounds of the International Creosote plant was not immediately known.

Nashville Case Dropped

NASHVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Federal District Judge Oren E. Harris has thrown out the complaints of five Negro teachers who contended their dismissal violated a merger agreement between the all-Negro Childress School District and the Nashville School District.

Judge Harris said the suit was disrupting the efforts of the school board to bring about peaceful desegregation of the Nashville schools.

Tapley and Cushman Hagen, medical consultants to the university on the project.

The committee, headed by Sen. Warren Magnuson, D-Wash., opens hearings today on smoking hazards and efforts to make cigarettes less dangerous to health.

John E. D. Grunow, former cement company executive named a special assistant to Kirk to handle commercial aspects of the Strickman project, said that in addition to the six major American tobacco manufacturers, a number of foreign tobacco firms have started discussions with Columbia about purchase of rights to the filter.

Columbia has had the filter tested by an independent Manhattan laboratory. Results reportedly confirmed Strickman's tests.

Columbia also has conducted tests which officials say indicate that the Strickman filter could be produced at about the same cost as filters now in use, and has run tests on the comparative taste of cigarettes with the Strickman and other filters.

Forest Fire Fighters Lose Ground

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Embattled fire crews were reported near exhaustion in the Northwest timber regions late Tuesday as they appeared to continue to lose ground to hundreds of blazes in all sections but Oregon, Southern Idaho, and Washington.

However, a wind change in British Columbia and the hope of reinforcements in western Montana and northern Idaho brought expectations that significant progress may get under way.

In those areas, uncontrolled blazes were reported on an estimated 50,000 acres.

Washington State officials braced for possible fire outbreaks but reported their forests were still free of major blazes which have raged for nearly two weeks in other Northwest

U.S. Mails Carrying Chinese Folder That Urges Race Violence

By HARRY KELLY

WASHINGTON (AP) — A publication of a fugitive American Negro in Red China which advocates violence in U.S. cities and advises Negro GIs to "eliminate" their white comrades in Vietnam has been carried in the U.S. mails.

The 12-page folder, stating it is published in Peking by Robert F. Williams, contains in the latest edition available here tips for logging sewer lines and highways, burning public facilities and smashing windows without getting caught.

It also urges that American Negroes refuse to fight in Vietnam. But it says those who are "trapped into" serving should "throw a monkey wrench into those murderous operations."

Further, it says: "They should eliminate as many of their real enemies as they can at the front so that these racists will not be able to return home and intensify the brutalization and extermination of black people to the extent that they are currently exterminating the Vietnamese people."

Postal, Customs and Justice Department officials say their power to police the import of foreign propaganda has been sharply restricted in recent years by Supreme court decisions dealing with the First Amendment's guarantees of freedom of speech and press. A customs spokesman said propaganda is barred at the ports of entry only if it is treasonable or advocates overthrow of the government or assassination of the President.

Because of the legal restrictions, the officials said, they were unable to determine the extent of the circulation of Crusader which Williams has turned out on an irregular basis since he fled, first to Cuba and then to Red China.

"I don't think there is anyone in the government who keeps a record on it," said one official.

However, another official said "a hell of a lot of them come in." A Detroit detective acknowledged he had no trouble purchasing copies of the Crusader at a bookstore specializing in militant publications in the heart of the area torn by rioting last month.

A Negro newsman in Detroit said he didn't think the circulation was extensive. He said he received his copy in the mail although he never subscribed to it.

Brown Free, Louisiana Wants Him

NEW YORK (AP) — H. Rap Brown was free today after having his bail on a federal gun charge reduced from $25,000 to $15,000 in a noisy hearing before U.S. District Judge Thomas F. Murphy.

The 23-year-old chairman of the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee walked out of the federal House of Detention at 5:20 p.m. Tuesday.

He immediately returned to the Foley Square Courthouse where the hearings had taken place and told a crowd of some 150 of his supporters: "Justice is a joke in America."

Brown, arrested on a federal charge of carrying a gun across state lines while under indictment, said: "If Lyndon Johnson think I'm going to pay $25,000 to get out of jail, he's crazy. He wouldn't pay that much for Lady Bird."

He added, "If he (Johnson) is worried about my rifle wait until I get my atom bomb."

Twice during the afternoon hearing Judge Murphy left the bench until the noisy courtroom

Some officers of the secretive RAM organization were arrested in New York in June and charged with a plot to assassinate moderate civil rights leaders. ## Air Strikes Hurting Enemy, Officers Say in Urging a Step Up

By BOB HORTON
AP Military Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Intensification of U.S. bombing of North Vietnam is accompanied by escalating military praise about how much the strikes are hurting the enemy.

The generals and admirals are sounding a recurring theme in recent statements before Congress and to newsmen: Bomb more while North Vietnam suffers.

Their comments, coming as American planes knife more often near Hanoi and along the Red Chinese border, indicate the brunt of the air campaign may be shifting from southern areas of North Vietnam to the heavily defended, politically sensitive northeast quadrant.

The northeast area, which includes the vital railroad link with Communist China's weapons and munitions factories, is regarded as Hanoi's main base area for the war in South Vietnam.

In Saigon Tuesday Air Force spokesmen said the stepped-up attacks in the northeast are severely hurting North Vietnam's capacity for war, and a high-ranking officer declared: "Hammer, hammer, hammer with everything you can because you know it hurts them. I know they're beaten. The question is: When are they going to quit?"

Meanwhile Gen. John P. McConnell, Air Force chief of staff, told the Senate Preparedness subcommittee examining the bombing campaign: "The cumulative effect of this increasing pressure by air has brought us to the point where we have begun to hurt the enemy in his home territory."

One week ago, Army Gen. Earle G. Wheeler, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, was telling the same group the raids have resulted in "steady destruction of the country's physical infrastructure and deterioration of the national economy."

And on Aug. 9, Adm. Ulysses S. G. Sharp, Pacific commander in chief, testified before the subcommittee: "During the last three months, with an expanded target list but no significant departure from the broad restraints under which we have long operated, we have begun to hurt the enemy in his home territory."

Officers say the latest raids near Hanoi reflect a policy decision to hammer harder at the important northeast sector, which contains key elements of the transportation system, industrial facilities and major military complexes such as training bases.

McConnell traced the evolution of the bombing campaign for senators Tuesday and asserted that without it the United States might have needed an additional 800,000 troops to cope with the Communist buildup.

One Killed in Wreck Near Lewisville

LEWISVILLE, Ark. (AP) — One person was killed and five others were injured in a head-on collision Tuesday night on a county road five miles south of here.

Officers said Charles Williams, 37, of Magnolia, was killed and Mrs. Lena Adecock of Lewisville, his passenger, was seriously injured when his car collided on a side road just off Arkansas 29 with a car driven by Dennis Towell, 17, of Lewisville.

Towell and three other teenagers were listed in satisfactory condition at a Texarkana hospital.

Washburn said he telephoned other newspapers in Southwest Arkansas to alert them.

"The Star doesn't do commercial printing but the papers in neighboring counties do," Washburn wrote in his daily column Monday. "They have facilities to print any brochures that the government may require — and they should be given the business rather than face this threatened invasion by a tax-fueled government printing plant."

Carroza said W. B. Coley, editor of the Little River News at Ashdown, had written him saying he didn't see the need for spending tax money for printing presses.

He had written newspaper publishers saying he had not intended to interfere with "the regular channels of providing news and information for Southwest Arkansas," but he believed small handbills and a publication called "Community Action News" would have helped serve the area better.
